A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands; cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, [illegible] sour "risings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

KILLED BY LIVE WIRE.

Edward Coleman, section hand for the Virginia Passenger and Power Company, and Sterling Ford, an employe of the Petersburg Granite Quarrying Company, whose quarries are in Dinwiddie county two and a half miles from Petersburg, were instantly killed yesterday afternoon by contact with a live wire, and Phil. Godsey, another employe of the quarry company, was painfully injured. At the time of the occurrence the men were engaged with others in removing a derrick of the quarry company which had fallen across the trolley wires of the electric railway of the Virginia Passenger and Power Company, which runs from Petersburg to Fernald Park, a summer resort in Dinwiddie county. The men, in pulling at the guy wire to get the derrick off the trolleywire, wore the insulation off an electric light wire. It was supposed that the electric current had been cut off.

CHASTISED WIFE.

Justice Hendrick, of the Supreme Court of New York, yesterday awarded to Mrs. William J. Stewart, wife of a dentist, alimony of $125 a month pending the trial of her suit for a separation on the ground of cruelty and abandonment, and also $150 for counsel fees. Stewart denied that he has been cruel and charged his wife with having a violent temper. On February 17, he says, she dared him to slap her face after a quarrel, so he did slap her with his open hand, whereupon she struck him back, so he proceeded to give her a spanking "such as a child deserves, by placing her over his knee and using the open palm." She responded, the dentist says, with an attempt to stab him, upon which he decided to leave her "until she had learned to act as a better companion, wife, and mother." He says that she was extravagant, says to force him to economize. She says that he makes $10,000 a year and does n't like to spend it.

FATAL BLOW.

John Anderson, a sailor belonging to the crew of the new American steamship Lurline, died from heart disease yesterday during a fist fight with Peter Cosin, a fellow seaman, aboard the Lurline now at Newport News. A coroner's jury exonerated Cosin and he was released, but it is probable that the young man will be held for trial by the Warwick county authorities. Anderson and Cosin quarreled in the forecastle of the ship and, with three witnesses, started to settle their differences with their fists. After a few minutes of fighting, Anderson fell down and before medical assistance could be summoned he was dead. Cosin was deeply affected by the affair. He lost no time in notifying the captain and remained at the side of his late opponent until he died. Dr. B. R. Gary found that death was caused by heart failure, brought on by the exercise and excitement. Anderson has a sister in Washington.

Do not Crowd the Season.

The first warm days of spring bring with them a desire to get out and enjoy the exhilarating air and sunshine. Children that have been housed up all winter are brought out and you wonder where they all came from. The heavy winter clothing is thrown aside and many shed their flannels. Then a cold wave comes and people say that grip is epidemic. Colds at this season are even more dangerous than in mid-winter, as there is more danger of pneumonia Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, however, and you will have nothing to fear. It always cures, and we have never known a cold to result in pneumonia when it was used. It is pleasant and safe to take. Children like it. For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

VICTIM THROWN INTO CANAL.

Murder under circumstances of unusual atrocity was revealed in the drainage canal at Chicago yesterday, when workmen discovered the body of a well-dressed man floating in the waters of the big ditch. A jagged hole at the base of the brain showed where the bullet entered. About the man's neck were unmistakable evidences of strangulation. Print of an assailant's fingers were plainly visible in the torn flesh. The motive for the crime apparently was robbery. All papers and traces which would serve to aid the police in fixing the identity of the dead man had been removed. The clothing is torn and gives proof of a struggle before the shot was fired. Robbery is indicated by the pockets, which were turned inside out. The dead man was thirty-five to forty years old, weighing from 180 to 190 pounds.

Kodol is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids with natural digestants and contains the same juices found in a healthy stomach. Each dose will digest more than 3,000 grains of good food. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

Can you believe your senses!

When two of them, taste and smell, having been impaired if not utterly destroyed, by Nasal Catarrh, are fully restored by Ely's Cream Balm, can you doubt that this remedy deserves all that has been said of it by the thousands who have used it? It is applied directly to the affected air-passage and begins its healing work at once. Why not get it today? Alexandria Gazette AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS

FRIDAY EVENING, MAR. 20, 1908.

A GREAT conspiracy to give the financial interests of New York greater control of the money of the nation has at all times been the main scheme of legislation embodied in the Aldrich bill. This was the conclusion pointed to by the arguments of Senator La Follete yesterday in the continuation of his speech against the bill, and by the great array of facts and figures upon which he based those arguments. His speech again was a vigorous arraignment of the financial interests, their control of business, and the men in public life who have contributed to bring about present conditions. He discussed Senator Aldrich and the plan of legislation he had presented to the Senate with a directness that was startling. The Aldrich bill, he argued, has been and still is identified with the great transportation and industrial corporations. There is nothing in it to aid business. When the railroad bonds were inserted in the bill, it was for the purpose of rehabilitating railroad securities, discredited by repeated watering and by revelations of financial corruption. Even now the bill will aid the speculative banks and prove of little if any value to legitimate business interests. Referring to the combination of a few men who control the commercial and industrial destinies of this country, Senator La Follette declared that the conditions they have created call for immediate investigation.

THE survivors of the General Slocum disaster, and the heirs of those who lost their lives there, in New York harbor, will receive no relief from Congress. After Representative Sulzer and a delegation appeared before the House committee on appropriations yesterday in support of an appropriation of $1,000,000 for the relief of the sufferers, a resolution was adopted unanimously declaring that Congress was not morally, equitably or legally called upon to make any such appropriation. And the committee could have done nothing else.

THE question of the movement of the battleships is a question of coal. "All the rest is easy," declares Captain Ingersoll, Admiral Evans' chief of staff. Eighty-eight tons of coal per steaming mile was required to drive the battleships on their around the world cruise. After leaving Trinidad the fleet took on 24,000 tons of coal at Rio de Janeiro; 21,000 at Punta Arenas; 21,000 at Callao, and it will require 35,000 more at Magdalena Bay to finish the trip to San Francisco. A battleship without coal is a helpless hulk.

FORMER GOVERNOR DOUGLAS, of Massachusetts, in a late speech declared that "the blighting tariff tax on raw materials has so checked the industrial growth of New England that great numbers of men are forced out of employment and compelled to emigrate." Gov. Douglas is an authority on economic conditions, and the republican standpatters have found no voice to reply to his speeches for tariff reform.

THE House of Representatives yesterday passed the pension appropriation bill, carrying $150,869,000, the largest sum ever authorized for pensions. This pension business, it was hoped, had reached the limit, but such seems not to be the case and if the list continues to grow it will not be long before one half of the people will be supplying the other half.

ANOTHER print paper trust is forming with a proposed capital of $50,000,000. The report of the organization says "little cash will be required," but we doubt that, for experience teaches us that all the corporations want all the cash they can squeeze out of the American people.

THE latest anti-saloon fad comes from Lincoln, Nebraska, where, beginning May 1, saloons will be open in daylight from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. This will compel the man who wants "to keep his birthday" to begin early in the morning.

DIAMONDS uncut pay no tariff tax, probably because, according to republican theory, those precious stones are a necessity for the wealthy few. It will hardly help the many to know that diamonds are to be cheaper in consequence of the panic.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., March 20.

Kentucky is fighting today in the U. S. Supreme Court for the right to segregate the whites and negroes in the schools. Politics and lawyers' fees made a strange allignment of attorneys. Pleading for the authority of the State "to guard the right of generations yet to be" was a leading Kentucky republican, Attorney General James Breathitt, while defending Berea College, a religious school, that seeks to educate both races in the same classes, was that apostle of democracy, former Secretary of the Treasury, John G. Carlisle. Breathitt argued that the State statute under which the college, was fined $1,000 was constitutional. "The statute was intended to prevent these two streams of pf life from flowing into a common channel, to preserve race identity and to maintain the purity of blood," said he. "Kentucky guarantees equal civil rights, but maintains a separate social status. The historians and adventurer found the negro race, centuries ago, in barbarian darkness, and the race, as a whole, so remains, a warning and an admonition against social advancement and equality." Secretary Carlisle contended that education in private schools is not a matter of public or State control. The right to maintain a private school is not a matter of public or State control. "The right to maintain a private school is no more subject to legislative control," said he, "than the right to conduct a store, or a farm, or any other one of the various occupants in which the people are engaged. Could the legislature impose a penalty upon a merchant, or a farmer, or a manufacturer for employing persons of the white and colored races to work together in the same room or field? The right of citizens to choose and follow an innocent occupation is both a personal and a property right." Another Kentuckian, Justice Harlan, will probably announce the opinion of the court.

Diplomats are discussing with much interest today the outcome of the Taten Ma'u incident and the apparent humiliation that China has been compelled to undergo. Both Minister Wu and Baron Takahira have called upon Secretary Root and explained the attitude of their respective governments, Minister Wu being the bearer of a protest. Despite this, however, there is a very well grounded impression that China has gained her point after all, and Japan has been outwitted by the Chinese foreign board.

The mikado has extended a personal invitation for the American battleship fleet to visit one of the ports of Japan on its around-the-world trip. Official announcement was made today that the invitation was presented to the State Department through Baron Takahira yesterday afternoon. The question as to whether the invitation shall be accepted was taken up at today's Cabinet meeting and the Cabinet decided to accept. Discussion of the invitation occupied most of the time of the meeting, which did not adjourn until nearly an hour after the usual time.

The condition of Senator Bryan, of Florida, is reported as very critical today. His physician was at his bedside all night, together with the Senator's brother, who arrived last night from Florida, in response to a telegram.

District Attorney Baker says that no arrests will be made during the Benning meetings. He says that his office will be guided by the ruling of Judge Stafford, which holds that "perambulating" betting is legal. The opinion was expressed that neither the commissioners nor the chief of police have any jurisdiction.

Mme. Anna Gould, who arrived here yesterday, denied the report that she was engaged to marry anyone. "I have had enough of married life," she said with a laugh.

Contradicting the testimony of Secretary of the Navy Metcalf and the experts of the Navy Department, Representative Lilley, author of the charges of corruption of Congress by the Electric Boat Company, submitted today to the committee investigating his charges a statement to show that the company has received $1,000,000 in excessive and extravagant profits from the government on contracts for submarines. The statement covers eight typewritten pages and gives extracts from government records in support of Lilley's claim.

There was much talk today among the anti-Bryan democrat in the House that they have things fixed for the defeat of William Jennings Bryan for nomination even if the south goes for him solidly. The anti-Bryanites are claiming many delegates in Western States for Johnson of Minnesota and all strength from main to Maryland in the East for either Johnson or Gray, of Delaware.

The new employers' liability bill may be reported tomorrow to the House by the judiciary committee.

The House has passed a bill to increase from $8 to $12 per month the pensions of all widows of veterans of all wars, thus providing for an additional pension expediture of $10,000,000 a year. The Senate has passed the bill also. Prominent republican members of the House, however, have notified the House leaders that if this bill is enacted into law, they will vote for any bill whatsoever, that takes money out of the treasury. They say there is no necessity for the enactment of the measure. It was suggested today that the measure will be allowed to die in conference.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, Mar. 20.

SENATE.

The protest of labor, which was presented to Vice President Fairbanks and Speaker Cannon yesterday afternoon and which asks further legislation to meet the recent decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court against labor organizations, including the enactment of an employers liability law and amendments to the Sherman anti-trust law, was read to the Senate today.

The reading did not claim the attention of Senators. In fact, on both the democratic and republican sides, there was so much confusion that the Vice President frequently had to rap for order. As soon as the reading was completed Senator Burrows asked that the memorial be printed as a public document and on motion of Senator Gallinger, 1,000 additional copies were ordered printed.

Senator La Follette introduced a a bill providing for the appointment of a tariff commission. In offering it, he said there was some question as to whether it could properly be presented as a Senate bill but because it incorporated his views and he proposed to address the Senate upon it, in the near future. Meanwhile he wanted it to lie on the table.

In accordance with prior agreement the Senate today took up the ocean mail subsidy bill with the purpose of voting upon it before adjournment. The bill increases the rate of compensation to be paid for the transportation of mails from $2 per mile to $4 on steamers making at least sixteen knots on voyages not less than four thousand miles in length to South America, Japan, China and Australia.

Senator Bacon offered an amendment to require that ships having contracts under the terms of the bill should make at least two stops at southern ports.

Senator Gallinger objected to the proposed amendment saying that the purpose of the bill was to ensure quick mail transportation to South America. If the ships were required to make stops at southern ports, there would be such a delay that there would be no gain over the present slow transportation by foreign ships.

The Senate passed the bill, already adopted by the House increasing the pay of members of the life saving service. It went through without debate after a short explanation from Senator Frye.

HOUSE.

When the House met today Speaker Cannon appointed Mr. Brodhead (dem. Penn.) to the committee on merchant marine and fisheries, vice Mr. Watkins (dem. La.), resigned.

A renewed attempt was made by the democrats led by Mr. Hardwick to compel the bureau of corporations to make public all its data and information it had gathered about corporations.

Mr. Hardwick's resolution making this demand was discussed in the House. Mr. Hardwick in speaking on his resolution said in five years the bureau had made reports only of the beef trust, Alton rebates and petroleum.

The rest of the data gathered had been withheld, he said, as ammunition for Roosevelt's six-seven inch guns in assaulting Congress. He added it was no wonder this was a "do nothing" Congress when it could not get data on which to base legislation. Finally, he termed it ridiculous to spend the public money to collect information which no representative of the public could examine.

Mr. Mann denounced the resolution as unreasonable and uncalled for. On a roll-call, the resolution was tabled by a vote of 138 to 105.

Speaker Cannon had read a letter of thanks from Mayor Johnson, of Cleveland for the resolution of sympathy passed upon the occasion of the Collinwood disaster. Cheers from the democrats greeted the mention of Johnson's name.

News of the Day.

Mr. Wm. J. Bryan yesterday celebrated his 48th birthday.

A dispatch from Boston says Governor Guild can hardly recover from his illness.

Virginia News.

Gov. Swanson has appointed Dr. Ennion G. Williams, of the faculty of the Medical College of Virginia and staff surgeon of the Memorial Hospital, as health commissioner for Virginia.

Governor Swanson, after going over all the affidavits and new evidence, has announced that he would not commute the sentence of Leo. C. Thurman, who will be hanged next Friday in Norfolk for the murder of Walter P. Dolsen.

Col. E. D. Cole, chairman of the finance committee and president of the Fredericksburg City Council, resigned last night. He is a large dealer in building supplies; and owing to a recent act of the State legislature he will no longer be allowed to contract with the city, hence his resignation.

The Third district republican convention, in Manchester, yesterday, was a lily white affair. The Taft element was in control at every point, and the announced intention was complied with. C. R. Moore and M. J. Enright were named as delegates to the national convention, and John G. Luce, of Goochland, was nominated for Congress. Leslie H. Drew is the presidential elector.

LOWER RATES ON APRIL 1st.

The Southern Railway Company will make radical changes in its passenger rates on April 1st, though some of these changes will not affect the State of Virginia at that time, because the State Corporation Commission has not accepted a compromise which the company has been able to effect with the States of North and South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee and Alabama.

Beginning on the date indicated, the States named will enjoy interstate and intra-State rates of two and one-half cents per mile for passenger service. Unless Virginia agrees to that rate for intra-State traffic, the rates at present will still be effective in this State. This means that persons going from one point to another in Virginia will ride for 2 cents a mile, but when the destination is outside of the State the rate will be under the old tariff which has been in vogue for years. The present rate, for instance, to Washington is $5.20, but under the compromise it would be $4.30.

On that date the Southern will put on sale 1,000-mile books good on all parts of its system at $20. These books will be good on several other Southern systems, though which systems, though which systems have not been made public, because it is probable that other lines will come into the agreement before it becomes effective. The tickets will be good only for the person to whom issued. Two thousand mile books will be sold at $40 good or not more than five persons, one, however, to use the book at a time. The 1,000-mile book to be sold for $25 will be interchangeable and good on seventy-five different systems.

In the States of North and South Carolina, Georgia, Tennesee and Alabama the company will also sell 500-mile books to be used by families at $11.25.

When these new rates go into effect persons will exchange the mileage at ticket offices for transportation instead of the conductor taking it up on trains. [Richmond Journal.

The majority report recommended a reduction of 20 per cent. of the salaries of the entire teaching force, abolishment of the offices of assistant superintendent, supervisor of manual training, the ceasing to pay salary to the license officer, and with a recommendation that the buildings and equipment of the kindergartens be given over to the use of the associations of citizens without remuneration.

Today's Telegraphic News.

Doctor Found Dead.

Evansville, Ind., Mar. 20.—Following the finding of Mrs. Jennie Farmer dying in a buggy from stab wounds and the arrest of Mrs. Nancy Davenport at the office of Dr. Henry C. Jorgenson last night, Dr. Jorgenson was found dead in his office today. The body lay on a lounge and was apparently a case of suicide, but the coroner would make no definite statement and will hold an autopsy this afternoon. The first word the police received of the affair was a telephone message from Farmer's home last night that Mrs. Farmer had a stab wound in her breast. She accused Mrs. Davenport, who is the wife of John M. Davenport, president of the Abstract Title Guarantee Company. Mrs. Farmer said she went to call at Jorgensen's office where she met Mrs. Davenport and the two came to blows, but she remembered nothing more.

When the police called on Dr. Jorgenson he first denied any knowledge of trouble between the two women, but the police later found Mrs. Davenport in a room above Jorgenson's office. Jorgenson then said the two women fought in his office, but that he had seen no knife, and that after the fight was over Mrs. Farmer entered her buggy and drove away.

Before becoming unconscious Mrs. Farmer said that when she entered the doctor's office Mrs. Davenport was there, and accused her of trying to win the doctor's love. The buggy in which Mrs. Farmer was found, was in the middle of the street where the horse had stopped several squares from the Farmer home. The husband of Mrs. Davenport says his wife was formerly in an asylum in Kansas, and he knew this when he married her. Recently Mrs. Davenport caused a sensation by an attack on a young stenographer in her husband's office.

Wife Murder and Suicide.

Milwaukee, Wis., Mar. 20.—George Willoughby, member of the Jewett and Sherman Company, and one of the leading business men of the city, this morning shot and killed his wife, Florence Willoughby, at their home here. Shortly after committing the deed Willoughby confessed, the police allege, that he had committed the murder because he was infatuated with another woman whom he had been supporting for four years. After killing his wife, Willoughby fired two shots into his own breast over the heart, and when the police were taking his confession and antemortem statement, his condition was so low it is not believed he can recover. Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby last night attended a social at the Park Place Methodist Church where both were prominent workers, he being a member of the board of trustees and a teacher in the Sunday school. According to Willoughby's statement, the couple quarreled while preparing to retire, and after his wife fell asleep he chloloformed her and then shot her behind the left ear, causing instant death. He then shot himself twice in the breast, the bullets piercing the lungs, but missing the heart. Dragging himself down stairs to the basement he opened the door to make it apparent that burglars had committed the deed, hid the revolver in the wall and returned upstairs where he telephoned for a doctor. When the police were notified they were informed that a burglar had shot Mr. and Mrs Willoughby, but when they arrived Willoughby broke down and confessed that he had murdered his wife and then attempted to commit suicide.

Conditions in Hayti.

Port au Prince, Mar. 20.—Trouble has broken out between the Haytian government and the diplomatic representives of foreign powers who have been sheltering revolutionists in their legations and consulates concerning the fugitives' deportation.

The agreement for the embarkation of the fugitives failed to include about seventy whom the Haytians promised not to arrest or punish. These men have now appealed to the diplomats not to leave them to their fate, saying they are convinced the government has no intention of keeping its pledge, but will certainly have them killed as soon as they leave their havens of refuge.

The diplomats are anxious to accede to their wishes and send them out of the country, but President Nord Alexis maintains that, bargain having been made, it is too late for foreigners to impose new conditions.

Many of the fugitives have already gone on board the warships and General Firmin and several of his closest friends will quit the French consulate at Gonaives for the cruisers.

Cruelty to Jews.

Berlin, Mar. 20.—For assembling peacefully at Charkoff, Russia, to discuss their race's condition under Muscovite rule, sixty-two delegates representing a Jewish organization of national scope have been arrested, frightfully tortured and are still imprisoned without trial or even formal charges of any kind of misconduct. The delegates, including leading Jews from all over the empire, were in session when troops surrounded the hall, entered with fixed bayonets, seized everyone present and dragged them to prison. There they were knouted, brutally maltreated in other ways, loaded with chains and thrown into cells.

Shoe Store of Japanese Wrecked.

San Francisco, Mar. 20.—Policeman James D. Skelly furnished ground for an international incident and laid the foundation for another claim against this city by the Japanese government when he went on a rampage last night and wrecked the shoe store of H. Abbe, a subject of the Mikado. The Japanese escaped with his life only because the revolver dropped from the trembling hand of the officer. The attack seems to have been entirely without provocation. Skelly was overpowered by a riot squad of policemen and was charged with drunkenness.

Death of Bishop Fowler.

New York, Mar. 20.—Bishop Charles Henry Fowler, of the Methodist Episcopal Church North, died at his home, 338 west Seventy second street, this city, today. Death resulted from the bishop's failure to rally after an operation for diabetes performed last night.

Bishop Charles Henry Fowler, was born in Burford, Ont., August 11, 1837, of English-Scotch ancestors. He had been an active worker in different branches of the church for many years, and at one time was editor of the New York Christian Advocate.

Doubts Expressed by Duke.

Naples, Mar. 20.—The Duke of Aosta expressed strong doubt, in an interview at his palace here today, of reports that the Duke of Abruzzi is to wed Miss Katherine Elkins. He denied, however, that such marriages must be celebrated in Italy, saying it is simply necessary that members of the royal family wedding abroad should be united by an Italian diplomatic representative.

It is reported that King Victor has given definite instructions to the Italian ambassador at Washington concerning the duke's courtship. What these orders are, however, has not been made public. It is also known that there has been an exchange of cypher messages between his majesty and Abruzzi.

The duke's fortune is estimated here at about $2,000,000, not a large fortune considering his heavy personal expenses and the fact that he has borne the cost of many expensive expeditions to distant parts of the world

New York, Mar. 20.—The Herald today says that Miss Elkins will not marry the Duke of Abruzzi. The trouble is that Senator Elkins will not meet the duke's demand that he be allowed $100,000 annually.

Duel Forbidden.

London, Mar. 20.—The Russian war ministry has decided to forbid the duel between General Fock and Col. Gorbatovsky, because Fock held a higher command at Port Arthur than Gorbatovsky. Fock is not responsible to Gorbatovsky for anything he did, need pay no heed to his criticisms, and can say what he pleases concerning the colonel's conduct without regard to his feelings.

Latest St. Petersburg reports are that Gen. Smirnoff is improving and seems in a fair way to recover.

Fatal Jump.

New York, Mar. 20.—Police reserves had to be called out today to control a mob of morbidly curious women who collected in east 103rd street about the body of a woman who killed herself by jumping from the fifth story window of of an apartment house. Mrs. Sarah Schery, a widow of 45, was the suicide. Her leap carried her into the middle of a crowd of women wheeling baby carriages. A few fled, but the majority crowded about the body. Mrs. Schery lived with her son, Samuel. She had been despondent of late.

New York Stock Market.

New York, March 20.—The stock market during the first hour acted in about the same manner as in the early trading every day since the beginning of the week. After the first hour the market ruled extremely dull, but with a firmer tone, many of the room traders buying back stocks sold earlier in the day and causing a general recovery in prices. At midday the majority of stocks traded in were only small fractions from yesterday's close, a few showing slight losses while others were a shade higher.

MANASSAS IS DRY.

As anticipated in the local option election held in Manassas, yesterday, the town went "dry" by the vote of 36 to 36. After May 1 there will be no saloons left in the county. The qualified vote of the town at this election was 130; not voting, 8. The churches of the town held a union praise meeting under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of Manassas, at the Baptist Church last night. Under the State law no liquor licenses can be issued within the corporate limits of the town for two years from May 1.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, in continuing his speech against the currency bill, arraigned a change of heart which he said Senator Aldrich had experienced with regard to the availability of certain bonds as investments.

Senator Carter, in a brief speech, submitted the explanation of the House committee on public buildings and grounds in connection with the Bieber case.

Senator Gallinger introduced the commissioners' bill for the retirement of public school teachers on pensions.

The action of the claims committee with regard to certain claims of churches growing out of the civil war, caused a protest from southern Senators.

Senator Fulton, of Oregon, chairman of the committee on claims, stated that the committee had adopted a rule that if a church had been taken, it should be paid for according to the value of materials used by the army.

He contended and was upheld by Mr. Smoot, that where a church building was taken by the army for the purpose of building a bridge or some similar military necessity, the government should only be required to pay for the amount of material so used. This contention was vigorously combatted by Senators Teller, Martin, Clay, Piles and Bailey. Mr. Teller recalled the fact that the late Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts, had laid down the rule that where a church, element sympathizing with secession, or educational establishment had been destroyed intentionally, by the United States army, full reparation should be made and he said no self-respecting nation could do less.

This position was strongly advocated by Senator Martin, of Virginia, who insisted that in that class of claims the value of the churches should be paid. He said: "In this case it is true that this committee did exclude from this bill not only churches that had been destroyed by act of war—in which I think the committee made a grave mistake—but it went further and excluded from the bill church property taken for the use of the army because the army needed and must have the church property.

"I say it is neither just nor logical to say that the necessities of the service are such as to require you to take possession of a church and use it, but still you must not pay for what you take and use but only for the material in it after you pull it to pieces. It is a metaphysical difference. It is not founded in justice or in logic or in right, in my opinion.

The bill was laid aside at 2 o'clock to permit Senator La Follette to resume his speech on the currency bill.

In the House a pension appropriation bill, including a provision for the consolidation of the pension agencies, and carrying many millions of dollars, was passed.

SUICIDE IN HOTEL.

Herbert Kremer, son of William N. Kremer, president of the German-American Fire Insurance Company, killed himself last night in the apartments of Mrs. Lafayette B. Gleason, divorced wife of the clerk of the State Senate and secretary of the republican State committee, in the St. Charles Hotel, in New York.

Mrs. Gleason said that Kremer had killed himself because she refused to marry him. She was divorced on January 9 last. Mr. Gleason married on March 14, at Bridgeport, Mrs. Frances Rich McEntee, of New York.

The woman said that she met Kremer two years ago, and that he was drinking heavily at that time. He was sent to Dr. Gibbons' sanitarium at Stamford, Conn., she said, where it was arranged he was to stay until cured. Kremer remained at the sanitarium until December 8, 1907, when Mrs. Gleason went to see him in response to many written requests which she had received.

During her visit she took Kremer for an automobile ride. They never returned to the sanitarium, but came directly to New York. Mrs. Gleason said that Kremer had promised that he would never drink again, but he soon resumed his old habits and was sent to the Keeley Institute at White Plains. He stayed there until two weeks ago last Tuesday, when he returned to New York.

RESOLUTIONS PRESENTED.

Senator Martin yesterday presented in the Senate three joint resolutions, adopted by the legislature of Virginia.

One of the resolutions requests the Virginia Senators and Representatives in Congress to do all in their power to restrict the "influx into Virginia of immigrants from southern Europe, with their Mafia and Black Hand and murder societies, and with no characteristics to make them, with us, homogeneous people, believing as we do, that upon Anglo-Saxon supremacy depends the future welfare and prosperity of this commonwealth; and we view with alarm any effort that may tend to corrupt its citizenship." Another resolution directs the Virginia Representatives to support the item in the pending fortifications bill proposing to fortify the entrance to Chesapeake Bay, and the third instructs them to support the good roads bill introduced by Representative Flood, of Virginia, which proposes that the surplus in the United States Treasury shall be distributed among the States and territories and the District of Columbia, to be used in improving the public roads.

FIRE IN WASHINGTON.

The illumination of the northern heavens about half-past twelve o'clock last night attracted the attention of many Alexandrians who happened to be on the street, at the time. The light was from the burning of the buildings surrounding Freedmen's Hospital at the northern end of Seventh street, Washington. The buildings were unoccupied, the patients having been removed about a week ago. The buildings were wiped out, as was almost a quantity of lumber in a yard near by, in which the fire originated. The brisk northwest wind fanned the flames and menaced adjoining buildings. Damages amounting to $50,000 resulted before the fire was extinguished. Several firemen were injured but not seriously.

GETS A $1,600 POSITION.

William Dulaney, the President's colored messenger and barber, has been transferred to the office of the auditor for the Navy Department and promoted from $1,200 to $1,600 a year. When the President goes to Oyster Bay this summer Dulaney will assume his duties in the auditor's office.

There has been much comment over the fact that Dulaney takes the place of a white clerk, who was reduced from $1,600 to $800 a year, but Ralph W. Tyler, the colored auditor for the Navy Department, declared that no injustice had been done the white clerk, whose habits were such that he had often been warned that he must sooner or later lose his position entirely or be reduced.

Dulaney has been the President's personal messenger and barber ever since Mr. Roosevelt entered the White House. He is an intelligent, unobtrusive, quiet man who is highly regarded by his chief. Dulaney shaves the President nearly every afternoon before luncheon, performing his duties while the President receives some cabinet officer or personal friend. Dulaney is from Alexandria, and was a barber before going to the White House. His appointment in the office of the auditor for the navy will make him a bookkeeper there, employment which he told the President he would like to have. He is a graduate of a business college of Washington, and for sometime studied in Howard University, fitting himself for a business course.

He has many friends in this city among both white and colored people who will be glad to learn of his good luck.

DON'T AGREE WITH DANIEL.

Former Senator A. F. Thomas announced in Lynchburg yesterday that Bryan democrats in Virginia will vigorously oppose the selection of Senator Daniel as a delegate to the convention at Denver. He said in an interview:

"Senator Daniel recently declared: 'Bryan is imperialistic at one end and populistic at the other. He carries too many scare headlines at the top of his page and frightens a good many of the conservative solid democrats who are not out to placate mobs.' In view of this utterance it is difficult to conceive that he would be willing to go to Denver as a Bryan delegate. After impugning Mr. Bryan's democracy and charging him with pandering to mobs, it would be singularly inconsistent to go to Denver asking that Mr. Bryan be nominated.

"The democrats of Virginia, who do not regard themselves as imperialists, populists, or a mob, but who earnestly favor the nomination of Bryan, will doubtless object to being represented at Denver by one who is so decidely opposed to what they want as Senator Daniel has shown himself to be.

"This is no time to put enemies on guard. The threat that the friends of Senator Daniel will force the Bryan element to accept him or they will defeat resolutions indorsing Bryan, and, perhaps, go to the extreme of instructing the delegation for Daniel, is the merest bombast.

"The so-called Daniel boom has never been taken seriously. It was engineered by the same element that thrust Judge Parker's candidacy upon the party in 1904. Its purpose was to embarrass Bryan's candidacy, but it failed to accomplish its object.

"The Virginia convention will be for Bryan and will send as delegates those who are his friends and not his enemies, and if the opponents of Mr. Bryan desire to make trouble, they will likely find the Bryan forces prepared."

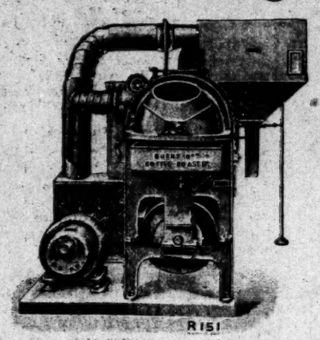
The Roasting of Coffee



Is by far the most important step in its preparation from the harvest to the table. This cut represents our roasting and milling outfit. Here the coffee is brought in direct contact with the flame, destroying all germs, thence to the suction cooler, which in two minutes drives into the center of every roasted bean the essential oils; after which it is delivered to the stoner. Thus we remove all substance foreign to our coffees, all chaff, stones, etc., and complete this entire process in twenty-five minutes.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAR. 20, 1908.

Most Wonderful Cave in the World.

The most wonderful cave in the world is in the island of Tonga, in the south Pacific. Byron called it "a chapel of the seas." It is formed in a rock that is almost surrounded by the ocean. This rock is about sixty feet high and broad proportionately. Many years ago a boy, the son of a native chief, was chasing a huge turtle, when his game seemed to sink into the rock. The lad watched and waited until the tide fell, disclosing a small opening in the rock about six feet under low water mark. Diving boldly, the young hunter entered the aperture and, to his surprise, came to the surface inside the rock. The rock was hollow, and its interior was found afterward, when the natives explored it with torches, to contain many beautiful stalactites. When attacked and followed by enemies, the natives, who know the secret, leave their canoes, plunge into the water and disappear. Their foes linger, astonished at their disappearance, for no person not acquainted with it would suspect that the rock was hollow.

Origin of Two Familiar Proverbs.

It was the habit of the great Greek painter Apelles never to let a day pass, however busy he chanced to be, without practicing his hand by tracing the outline of some object, a custom which has now passed into a proverb—"No day without a line." He also made it a rule, when he had finished a canvas, to exhibit it to the view of those who visited his studio, while he himself, hidden behind the picture, would listen to their comments. It is said that once a shoemaker, censured him for having painted a pair of shoes with one latchet too few. Next day the shoemaker, revisiting the studio, saw that the painter had corrected the mistake. He then began to criticise the leg of the portrait, upon which Apelles came forward and reminded him that a shoemaker should not go beyond the shoes, a piece of advice which has also crystallized into a proverb, "Let the cobbler stick to his last."—Pliny the Elder.

At Sea In a Coffin.

It was the French assassin Lupi who escaped to sea from Cayenne in a coffin. He managed to get some nails, tar and cotton, and one dark night he got into the coffin shed. He selected a fine, stanch and seaworthy coffin and fastened the lid in order to turn it into a deck, leaving a cockpit sufficient to enable him to crawl in. He calked all the joints as well as he could, and when this work was finished he made a pair of paddles out of two planks. Then he brought out his craft with great precaution. Without much difficulty he reached the water's edge. Silently and slowly he proceeded in the hope of reaching either Venezuela or British Guiana, 150 nautical miles distant. Fortunately or unfortunately for Lupi, the steamer Abeille, returning from the Antilles, off Paramaribo picked him up, half drowned and almost in a fainting condition, and a few hours later he was in irons in his cell.

Too Long Winded.

The inhabitants of the Canary isles, finding themselves oppressed by famine, sent to the governor of Galicia one of their head men as an ambassador. They advised him not to lose himself in long winded talk. He promised and kept his word. He took with him a large number of sacks, and, arriving at the town where the governor was on the circuit, he opened one of them before him, saying only these words: "It is empty. Fill it."

The governor ordered this sack and the rest to be filled with meal, but he said to the speaker; "You had no need to tell us that the sack was empty nor that it was necessary to fill it. We should have readily guessed that. Another time be briefer in your talk."—Bon Vivant.

Look Into Space.

A young man whose eyes had been troubling him consulted a New York oculist. "What you want to do," said the specialist, "is to take a trip every day on the ferry or in New Jersey. Long Island—any place where you can see long distances. Look up and down the river, across fields or, if the worst comes to the worst, go on the top of a skyscraper and scan the horizon from that point. The idea is to get distance. You use your eyes a great deal and always at close range. You can't use them any other way in town. Even when not reading or writing the vision is limited by small rooms and narrow streets. No matter in what direction you look, there is a blank wall not far away to shut off sight."

Travel Free.

"Conductor," said the gasping passenger, vainly trying to raise a window, "there are at least a billion microbes in this car."

"You ought to be able to stand that if the company can," growled the street car conductor. "We don't get a blamed cent for carrying 'em."—Chicago Tribune.

Lies Low.

"Of course she doesn't like discussions about ages."

"No. Usually when she's queried about hers she just says nothing, but lies low."

"Yes, or if she says anything she lies low."—Philadelphia Press.

Convenient.

"So you have three pairs of glasses, professor?"

"Yes. One pair to read with, another for nearsightedness and a third pair to look for the other two with."—Fliegende Blatter.

Deed of Valiant Nobody.

It is not always [illegible] carried by the regularly appointed aide-de-camp to and from the commanding officer in battle which is of highest value. There was a supreme moment during the battle of Waterloo when the Duke of Wellington was left absolutely alone, and that not when he was running the risk of capture by sailing through the enemy's lines. It simply meant that every galloper had gone his way, each with his message. At this moment a stranger rode up to the duke and quietly asked, "Can I be of any use, sir?" The duke took one glance at him and unhesitatingly answered, "Yes, take this pencil note to the commanding officer," pointing to a regiment in the heat of the battle. The stranger took the note and galloped away with it through the thick of the fight. He delivered it, but what happened to him no man knows. The duke always declared that to be one of the most gallant deeds that had ever come under his notice. It was done without prospect of acknowledgment or reward, and neither attended its successful accomplishment.—London Standard.

A Frost Desolated Land.

I learned from an eyewitness something about Spitzbergen, that desert arctic island 500 miles north of the North cape of Norway and within 700 miles of the north pole; a frost desolated land, where the grass grows longer than the trees and huge glaciers in the ice bridged valleys amid the jagged mountains move majestically down into the sea until mighty icebergs, a monstrous birth, break off and rise to the surface amid thunderous reports—once the only sound that broke the profound silence of those awful solitudes. Spitzbergen is the only spot of earth that is positively known as No Man's land. It is the possession of no country and has nothing even resembling a specified government. The island seems likely to remain No Man's Land, though it is said that an effort has been made by Norway to establish some sort of protectorate over it.—National Magazine.

Edward III.'s Drum Corps.

Probably introduced from the east, is frequently mentioned in the accounts of the first crusade. When Edward III. and his queen made their triumphal entry into Calais, "tambours," or drums, were among the instruments which were played in their honor. Another of these was called a "naker," or kettledrum, taken, together with its name, from the Arabs. The poet Chaucer also mentions this instrument in his description of the tournament in the "Knightes Tale:"

Fyfes, trompes, nakeres and clariounes,
That in the batallie blowen blody sounes.

The king generally kept a troop of these bandsmen or minstrels in his employ, and we read that Edward II. on one occasion gave a sum of 60 shillings to Roger the trumpeter, Janino the nakerer and others for their performances.—Chambers' Journal.

The Soul and the Beard.

In Russia it was the common belief up to the time of Peter the Great that beardless men were also soulless and that a man who purposely admitted having his beard marred could never enter heaven. The great Peter above referred to ordered his heathens to "shave up," so as to appear more civilized, and when they refused to comply with his edict he fined the wealthy and middle classes 100 rubles for each beard that was permitted to grow and each peasant and laborer a kopeck for the same privilege. Finally the priests were appealed to, and they informed their parishioners that unless they submitted to having their beards shaved they need not expect that St. Nicholas, the gatekeeper of heaven, would be able to distinguish them from the bearded Turks. That had the desired effect.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Is Both Agreeable and Effective.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has no superior for coughs, colds and croup, and the fact that it is pleasant to take and contains nothing in any way injurious has made it a favorite with mothers. Mr. W. S. Pelham, a merchant of Kirksville, Iowa, says: "For more than twenty years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been my leading remedy for all throat troubles. It is especially successful in cases of croup. Children like it and my customers who have used it will not take any other." For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.
